

ALLIES PUSH ON AFTER FURIOUS FIGHTING

The War Today...

By DeWitt MacKenzie
AP War Analyst

INCREASED Axis resistance is reported from Sicily today but the progress of the Allied invasion proceeded far enough so that we can do no harm by counting that chicken and looking about for other fields to conquer.

There seems to be a widespread public expectation here at home that the next major venture of the United States fighting machine will be occupation of the Italian mainland. Indeed, a Madrid dispatch this morning says the Germans believe this will be the program if experience in Sicily leads the Allies to think Italy is ripe for the plucking. The Nazis are said to be rushing preparation of defenses in northern Italy.

A drive into Italy could happen, of course, but so could one or more of several other things. As a matter of fact, this uncertainty in itself represents a tactical triumph for the Allies. They've so cleverly mixed the pieces of the jig-saw puzzle of invasion that the Axis has been wholly unable to fit it together thus far. Even after it was perfectly clear that Sicily was to be one of the first points of attack, Berlin and Rome were fooled as to the exact time and place of operations. And in the heat of operations in Sicily, the hocus-pocus has been continued. The great Montgomery, Cromwellian leader of the famous British Eighth army, issued an order of the day to his troops declaring that the time has now come to carry the war into Italy and into the continent of Europe.

Was he naively giving away the secret at last, or was he sticking his tongue in his cheek and leading the Allies up the alley? Well, I've encountered Montgomery personally, and I know he's not from Rome, but it's anybody's guess what he was up to.

WHAT advantages would the Allies secure by taking over Italy? One of the chief gains would be the tremendous moral effect right round the world. It would weaken the morale of the Axis, strengthen that of the Allies, and tend to swing neutral nations toward the United Nations.

From the military standpoint it would ensure Allied domination of the Mediterranean, and give them control of the Adriatic, thus opening up fresh lines into the Balkans. However, it must be said that apart from these advantages Italy already is so nearly impotent as to be of little value to itself or anybody else.

Not all that the prospectors see glittering in Italy is gold, by a long shot. The Allies are bound to consider whether it would be worth the cost to take over Mussolini's sorry state.

On the debit side we should find the task of providing a nation of 45,000,000 with large quantities of

AKRON STRIKE STOPS TRAFFIC

Bus and Street Car Operators Refuse To Make Schedule Trips

(By Associated Press)
AKRON, July 15.—An unexpected strike by CIO and street car operators early today paralyzed mass transportation in this war-busy rubber capital for the second time in two months, depriving thousands of war workers of usual means of travel to their jobs.

Ignoring pleas of their leaders in a stormy early morning session, approximately 200 unionists refused to take their street cars and buses from the Akron Transportation Co. car barns at 4 a. m.

William H. Wright, local CIO Transport Workers union president, said the session was called to present to the union recommendations of a War Labor board panel on a wage dispute. The panel yesterday refused to approve a requested increase from the present 86 1/2 hourly average rate to $1.25.

P. V. C. See, vice president and general manager of the company, said the transportation was "completely tied up" and added "they gave us no notice, same as last time."

The carmen staged a two-day walkout May 13 and 14, in protest against the WLB's delay in considering their wage demands.

Wright said union leaders pleaded with the men in the special meeting to continue working, but that the membership "was tired of being pushed around in our requests for some consideration."

The panel which denied the increase in hourly rates recommended to the regional WLB that operators be given overtime pay concessions for all work over 42 1/2 hours weekly. A majority now work 50 hours weekly, the company said.

Unexpected, as the strike was, police said motorists were quick to grasp the situation and began picking up persons waiting at car stops.

At a central downtown transfer point police aided in loading cars to capacity.

Motorists Urged to File For "A" Books by Monday

Motorists who fail to mail their "A" gasoline ration renewal application to war price and rationing boards by Monday probably will not receive their new coupon books by July 21, the expiration date of the original basic gasoline rationing cards declared today.

In warning motorists to send in their "A" applications by Monday, the OPA office pointed out that they expected a last-minute rush which will slow down the processing of requests by volunteers and staff employees of the war price and rationing boards. Application forms are available at most gas stations and at the OPA book for a few days is the only penalty for tardy applicants. OPA said, because late applications will be processed specifically and "A" books mailed regardless of when they are received by the boards.

Clothing Retailers To Regulate Sales By New WPB Code

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, July 15.—A wartime code of selling practices, aimed at discouraging excess buying and thus heading off the rationing of clothes, was laid down for textile dealers today by War Production Chief Donald M. Nelson.

The declaration of policy dooms for the duration all "scarcity" advertising and such remarks by store clerks as, "you had better buy several of these—we may not get any more."

Even the time-honored price comparison appeal—"our price $6.95, regularly $8.95"—must be eliminated from advertising unless the sale is a genuine clearance, and the word "sale" must be shunned. The only permitted price comparison is with the government ceiling.

The code was worked out with representatives of large and small retailers by Arthur D. Whiteside, director of WPB's office of civilian requirements.

"This is the most important and broadest step in individual commercial self-regulation ever attempted in this country," Whiteside declared in telegrams to merchants' organizations.

The government will not police stores for enforcement. Compliance is voluntary so long as the plan works. Whiteside's telegrams hinted at the alternative—government control of selling. He said he was certain retailers would successfully conserve civilian supplies by the program and thus "eliminate the necessity for stringent regulations."

The policy declaration makes the flat statement, "the War Production Board has established the fact that there is an adequate supply of textiles to meet essential civilian needs."

The committee includes: Senior warden, F. W. Koenreich and Paul Myers; junior warden, Harold Smith and Charles Mangus; township warden, Price Cope and Howard Dodge.

The group will meet the first Wednesday of each month.

Alliance Man Injured When Auto Strikes Pole

Joseph Grimes, 43, of Alliance, suffered a possible fracture of the pelvis when the car in which he was riding with William Doolan, 31, of Beloit, skidded at 7:30 p. m. yesterday, and crashed into a utility pole. Grimes' condition is reported as good today at the Alliance City hospital. State highway patrolmen investigated the accident.

CLEANUP DRIVE OPENS TUESDAY

City Will Collect Junk In Belated Campaign, Service Head Announces

The city's belated spring cleanup drive, never before so tardy, will be held next week, commencing Tuesday.

This was the definite assurance today of Service Director Frank Wilson who asked that citizens place their tin cans and collectable refuse on the curb lawns in front of their homes.

The cleanup was delayed this year by street repair work and also by the fact that the service department's manpower situation is not as great as in previous seasons.

Residents are warned by the service director that their junk must be placed at the curb early. The trucks will make no back calls.

He said plans call for a cleanup of the east end of the city first. The trucks will start out E. State st., east of Lincoln ave., at 7 a. m. Tuesday, subsequently covering all streets east of the west side of town is planned.

INSURGENT MINERS RETURN TO WORK

PITTSBURGH, July 15.—The insurgent coal strike in southwestern Pennsylvania collapsed today as a federal grand jury continued an investigation to determine who was responsible for continuing the walkout which began June 20.

Two mass meetings, with United mine workers locals from the dozen mines which had remained idle yesterday, voted unanimously to resume work today. All but about 3,500 of the final 10,000 holdouts went back yesterday.

Under the 20-day-old Connolly-Smith anti-strike measure, any person causing a work stoppage in government-operated mines is subject to criminal penalties.

Richard Maize, acting state secretary of mines, reported Pennsylvania produced 6,618,000 less tons of coal in June—when strikes emptied anthracite and bituminous fields at intervals—than in June, 1942.

The committee includes: Senior warden, F. W. Koenreich and Paul Myers; junior warden, Harold Smith and Charles Mangus; township warden, Price Cope and Howard Dodge.

The group will meet the first Wednesday of each month.

Salem Soldier Credited With Saving Man's Life In Storm

Pvt. Pete D. Nebbia, of Salem, has been officially commended for saving the life of a Panama Canal employee during a recent tropical storm that swept across the Isthmus. It was announced by Mobile Force headquarters at Quarry Heights, Canal Zone.

The commendation, made by Major Gen. E. F. Harding, of Franklin, Ohio, commanding the Mobile Force, praised Nebbia for his "prompt and positive action" in administering first aid to Julian Howard when the latter was severely cut by flying glass at the height of the storm.

Pvt. Nebbia, on guard duty at the time Howard was injured, rushed to the stricken man's side and, noticing that he was bleeding profusely from a bad cut on his head, realized that the man would probably die if he waited for a doctor to get to the scene.

Falling back on his military training in first aid, Nebbia located the pressure point, under Howard's ear, and held the flow of blood in check until an Army medical-aid man arrived, ten minutes later.

In commending Nebbia's action, Gen. Harding stated that he had reflected great credit not only upon himself but upon his organization, the Army of the United States.

"Your alertness, initiative, sense of responsibility and manner of application of first aid are most commendable," the general said.

Nebbia, son of Mrs. Mary Nebbia of 297 W. Wilson st., has been in the Army since last October. He has been on foreign service, stationed in Panama, since January.

REDS REPULSE NAZI ATTACKS AT BELGOROD

Stubborn Fighting Marks 11-Day-Old Battle, Moscow Report Says

(By Associated Press)
MOSCOW, July 15.—Counter-attacking Soviet tanks, supported by mobile artillery, traded blows with German tank and infantry forces in the Belgorod sector of the Russian front yesterday with increasing local successes for the Russians, front line dispatches said today.

The Russians said they had beaten off stubborn attacks which the Germans launched almost incessantly in some sectors around Belgorod and had recaptured several villages as their counter-blows got under way.

For the second successive day, meanwhile, the Nazi attack stalled at the northern end of the 200-mile Orel-Kursk-Belgorod front along which the Germans launched their offensive 11 days ago. As the midnight Soviet communiqué expressed it, the Germans "did not undertake any attacks" in the Orel-Kursk sector yesterday.

(German broadcasts recorded in London said the Russians themselves were attacking near Orel and had broken through the Nazi lines east and north of the city by "sheer weight of numbers". The Russians later were driven back and the gaps sealed, the broadcast said.)

In the fighting yesterday around Belgorod, the Red army was said to have knocked out 100 German tanks, shot down 47 planes and killed more than 2,000 of the enemy. Aerial engagements elsewhere increased the day's bag of Nazi planes to 158, the Russians said.

Yesterday's engagements brought German losses, as tabulated in Soviet communiqués, to more than 40,000 killed, about 1,392 planes downed and 2,919 tanks destroyed since the start of the summer campaign.

MOSCOW, July 15.—The Soviet press quoted a captured German officer today as saying Adolf Hitler had issued an order at the outset of the present Nazi offensive in Russia declaring that "this blow must be of decisive importance—it must be the turning point of the war—the last great battle before German victory."

The press accounts said the German lieutenant had slipped across No. Man's land recently at night to surrender because he was convinced the German offensive against Russia would fail and that Germany would be defeated in two to six months.

C. D. OF A. OPPOSES WORKING MOTHERS

Formal Resolution Declares Mothers On War Jobs Neglect Children

(By Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, July 15.—A leader of the Catholic Daughters of America opposed the group today for taking a stand against employment of mothers in war jobs.

"We are glad to know you are opposing particularly mothers who leave a family at home," asserted Miss Mary E. McKeogh, national chairman of the organization's social welfare department, in a prepared address.

Delegates to the Catholic Daughters' convention adopted a resolution last night declaring "no contribution is made to the successful prosecution of the war by the working mother who leaves her children unsupervised."

Miss McKeogh blamed "the absence of the mother from the home" for "a large per cent of the increase in child delinquency and exploitation of the child in the way of care for children whose parents are in defense work... and recreation for the older children."

"We must strive to bring these mothers an appreciation of their God-given responsibility that is theirs in the care of their little family," she asserted.

She also urged the group to continue to "discourage as much as possible mothers leaving their families," and added:

"It is well to study all types of legislation that tends to take women out of the home. The preservation of the sanctity of the home is the bulwark of democracy."

BRITISH HURL BACK GERMAN ARMORED UNIT

Americans Drive Inland; Nazis Set On Preventing Catania Invasion

By BELMAN MORIN
ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, July 15.—The jaws of an Allied clamp have taken a deeper bite on eastern Sicily after a furious battle in which the British Eighth army hurled back a powerful counter-attack by Nazi armored forces, headquarters reports said today.

The greatest advance was scored by the American Seventh army, driving inland on a line parallel with the British east coast push. Led by Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., the Americans dug into the Ragusa-Vizzini sector, moved forward some six or seven miles, captured another important air-drome and took important heights.

Another Italian general, commanding the 54th Napoli division, surrendered with his staff south of Vizzini. Vizzini is about 25 miles west and slightly south of captured Augusta, and about the same distance northeast of Gela.

Hurling itself forward against sterner resistance, the British Eighth army of Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery drove to the town of Brucoli, four miles north of the port of Augusta after weathering a crisis yesterday in which the German armored forces mounted a powerful counter-attack and actually reached the harbor at one time.

A British brigade in the strategic harbor city, under Allied domination since Monday evening, was isolated temporarily by the furious enemy thrust, but the British counter-attacked and drove on to Brucoli.

Seek to Block British
Today's communiqué from Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters said the British gained "some miles" yesterday and that Augusta was firmly in Allied hands.

This concerted assault by enemy forces in which the crack German armored Hermann Goering division took part indicated the Italian and German commanders had shifted the bulk of their forces from positions confronting the Americans in order to block the British path up the east coast.

The Goering outfit previously had received a bad mauling at the hands of the Americans.

The latest developments indicated the Axis commanders had decided to commit their main forces in battle to hold the British and Canadians below Catania, 35 miles up the coast from Augusta.

FLYING FORTRESS WRECKAGE FOUND

COLUMBUS, July 15.—The wreckage of a Flying Fortress missing since March 3 and the bodies of eight crewmen were found 20 miles southwest of Springfield, Ariz., Col. C. A. Foulk, commanding officer of nearby Lockbourne army air base reported today.

Officers and enlisted men from Luke field near Phoenix, Ariz., located the smashed B-17 after the body of Pvt. Geronimo Medina, a voluntary passenger aboard the ship, was discovered five miles from the crash scene. Beside the body were crutches fashioned from parts of airplane wood and parachute shrouds.

The bomber was on a flight from Portland, Ore., when poor visibility prevented a scheduled landing at Las Vegas, Nev.

DIVIDING OUR ENTHUSIASM

The embarrassment of being able to watch two performances at the same time is made acute today by the good news from the South Pacific. Under more ordinary circumstances, the whole country would be singing the praises of MacArthur and Halsey, instead of Eisenhower and his co-workers.

In what may be a more crucial action than invasion of Sicily, the United States has depleted by at least four more units a Japanese navy which Jane's "Fighting Ships" calls close to the point of fatal weakness. In the few days since the enemy has been trying desperately to relieve the pressure on his base at Munda, he has lost at least 13 cruisers and destroyers.

This means that in the war of attrition with Japan, the United States has scored another major triumph. The effect on balances of power is greater than the demonstration in the Mediterranean that Italy, which was never a first-class naval power, does not dare to expose its depleted navy to the forces invading its territory. With the Japanese navy depleted, too, the Axis does not possess formidable strength where strength is needed most in a war of supply—on the high seas.

By dividing our enthusiasm, we can find at least as much to cheer about in the news from the Pacific as in the continued good news from the Mediterranean.

THE SMEAR-CONGRESS CAMPAIGN

Congressmen have been warned by Rep. Dirksen of Illinois to expect a smear campaign during their recess. It will be staged at public expense by the publicists of the New Deal. The purpose, of course, is to chasten congress by discrediting its members with their constituents while they are at home. Willing helpers in the campaign will be labor leaders sworn to get revenge for the anti-strike law, their first setback in 10 years of easy living. Arthur Krook, head of the New York Times Washington bureau, also suspects the administration will take advantage of the recess to attack congress.

First overt sign of the smear is condemnation in the writings of New Deal apologists of a congressional recess at this time. "Are soldiers and sailors going to get two months' vacation with pay this summer?" sniffs one of these, in his most sarcastic manner. This is typical of what may be expected. Congress will be blamed for the confused handling of food distribution. It will be charged, in general, with the New Deal crime of questioning the infallibility of bureaucratic government. This is not to say that the smear will stick, but it is certain to be applied—indeed is already being applied.

The people who like to be fooled will get their chance.

TRIALS OF FATHERHOOD

When this war is over and the old gaffers start mulling over their experiences, there should be special hearings for the fathers who almost were soldiers. There was a peculiar sacrifice.

They were the victims of the great national prediction for guessing. One week it was the consensus of the official guessers in Washington that all fathers under 38 would be in service. The next week it was the consensus that only part of the fathers under 38 would be taken from their families. Sometimes, the guesses varied: None of the fathers would be taken, or it might be that all fathers up to 45 were sitting at the head of the table on borrowed time.

The fathers took all these rumors, some of which were official reports, under consideration, along with the rising cost of living, taxes, War Bond purchases and the restlessness engendered by the thousand and one other wartime reports and rumors and gradually approached the point where a slamming door would bring them into the position of a soldier. If it slammed again, they'd deploy and start to surround the enemy.

In brief, no father still in civilian clothes will take too much stock in the newest report that if their responsibility was incurred before Pearl Harbor and born before Sept. 14, 1942, they are not going to be taken into the army. It might be so, but next week it might be East Lynne, instead. Long ago, civilian fathers quit believing in rumors for the duration.

Jack Warwick, Toledo Blade paragrapher, says: "Only a small fraction of the money spent on war would finance the brotherhood of man indefinitely." Or, given to the Church, would Christianize the world—then there would be no more wars.

A news item says: "England's price control system employs 10 lawyers; ours employs 2,700." Little wonder the OPA is in such a mess.

The headlines say: "Ceiling Built Over Eggs." Make it substantial; if it should fall there'd be a terrible egg scramble.

After a lawyer asks a question one hour long, it would be interesting if the witness asked him if he'd repeat that.

The month of August is just around the corner, and soon we'll commence to wonder where the summer has gone.

Our memory goes back to the good old days when we were asked to take a second helping of meat, and did.

Subsidies may keep prices down, but it boosts taxes and the number of voters for the New Dealers.

Regardless of weather conditions, War Bond buying goes merrily on!

THE STARS SAY:

For Friday, July 16.

THE AFFAIRS of this day may be expected to move at high tempo, with possibly much excitement, commotion and thrills, in whatever direction the energies, resources, opportunities and ambitions may be turned by powerful planetary influence. Both practical, business, industrial and everyday affairs are under high pressure for constructive action and the personal life runs in quite as decisive, dramatic and spectacular grooves. In fact, the romantic and emotional may be the inspiration for heightened activity.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may expect a year of exciting and dramatic adventures, creating high tension and excitement both in the home and business associations. In the latter it is advised to push all matters to decisive goals as there is prospect of constructive and lucrative work by quick and determined attack. In the realm of the emotional or affectional life there may be sudden and unforeseen developments, with celebration, parties or other exciting functions, giving great joy and gratification, albeit much domestic tumult, annoyance, or friction.

A child born on this day may have much skill and ability in practical matters, with much to be gained by its skill, determination and enterprise. Its emotional or affectional life may be just as dramatic and exciting, possibly with some storms and stresses.

Obviously the traffic problem would be less complicated if it were not for huge trucks, automobiles and pedestrians.

Another thing of which we're firmly convinced is that mosquitoes are not easy to get used to.

It is understood that Hitler and Mussolini are in the market for a couple of gazing globes.

Maybe another reason why we are having so much rain is because the picnic season is in full swing.

War Is Ally of Tuberculosis

BY LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

War, I am afraid, teaches few useful lessons. But I think it is undoubtedly true that World War I taught us a great deal about tuberculosis.

In the first place few even of the most careful and pessimistic students of the subject had any idea of the amount of latent, semi-active tuberculosis in the general population. We had, it is true, few reliable methods of detecting tuberculosis in the early stages during the examination of recruits at that time. But the strenuous and arduous physical exercises which soldiers have to go through rapidly broke down draftees who had been passed by the examining boards and we found, and still have evidence, in our military hospitals of the tremendous extent of unsuspected tuberculosis in the community.

The second thing we learned was that the methods of examination ordinarily employed were inadequate to detect the early or latent case. These methods were primarily the use of the stethoscope, percussion, and the examination of the sputum for tubercle bacilli.

Not Revealed by Stethoscope

Many soldiers were passed by the examining boards simply because the involvement of the lungs lay too deep to be revealed by the stethoscope and since then we have learned the astonishing fact that it is easier to recover tubercle bacilli from the stomach contents than from the sputum.

In the years that have passed the great advance in diagnosis has been the use of the X-ray, and all the draftees in the present army have been examined by this method. Roughly, 99 per cent of those who have any trace of tuberculosis are detected and returned home for treatment. I have seen one or two cases in army hospitals of draftees who have broken down under the discipline drill, but this is nothing compared to the number we had in World War I. Since early detection and early treatment are the key to cure, and cure under these circumstances is possible, the situation is greatly improved from a practical standpoint.

Another aspect of tuberculosis in war is the possibility of an increase in tuberculosis all over the world. For the 50 years up to 1917 there had been a steady decline in the incidence of tuberculosis. In Great Britain tuberculosis increased per cent in the first year of World War I, and 10 per cent in the second. From 1920 to 1937 the incidence of tuberculosis and the death rate in all civilized countries continued its downward trend. But a number of factors are operating to put it on the upgrade again. One is the universal breakdown in food supplies.

Tuberculosis May Increase

Tuberculosis is a disease of lack of nutrition. In the Americas and in Great Britain this cause will probably not operate, but heaven only knows what will happen to the peoples on the continent of Europe. Another factor is the crowding and close personal contact in air raid shelters and also in periods of population movement and distress.

Eternal vigilance is the price of freedom from tuberculosis. The decline of the disease in the last century has tended in some quarters to a false sense of security. But as a Canadian writer says, "A disease that kills nearly 6,000 of the population, leaves at least 30,000 incapacitated, and costs the country directly at least 38,000,000 annually, is still a formidable enemy and a major health problem."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

A. K. B.: Please write about tachycardia, the cause, and cure, etc. If the pulse goes up to 120 and it can be returned to normal by pressure on the neck, what does this mean?

Answer: Tachycardia is simply a symptom. It means rapid pulse. There is the tachycardia of fear, of goiter, of heart disease, etc. Pressure on the carotid sinus in the neck sometimes stops it. When this occurs we assume the tachycardia was caused by functional disturbance of the carotid sinus.

AMERICAN BRED by FRANKEN MELONEY

SYNOPSIS

There was no threat of stormy weather when pretty Ann Rivers came to her married sister's swank home in Bar Harbor, Maine. But on a lonely road outside Providence, she ran into a sleet storm—and a ditch—from which her car refused to budge. At the turn of the road, a trucker, the Tru-Tourist Bungalow, where the sought help, the brusque young proprietor informs her the telephone is out of order. Paul Freund's mother, a kindly old lady, insists that Ann take one of the bunks for the night. Sitting before the fire, Ann recalls her imperious sister Helen's disapproval of her plans to seek employment in New York and, if possible, locate a buyer for Broadbent's large farm in Connecticut. Ann explains that Paul's wife, Carol, is expecting a baby. Ann plans to stay with Carol while Paul is away from his cabin, elderly Mrs. Freund expresses the hope that Ann will not mind sharing it with Rosalinda. Ann could not understand why Rosalinda, who proved to be a beautiful Great Dane, was housed with her companions in the kennels outside. But the reason was soon obvious when Rosalinda's nine new puppies arrived. Ann, who is a local doctor in service by the kennel owner in the kennels outside. But the reason was soon obvious when Rosalinda's nine new puppies arrived. Ann, who is a local doctor in service by the kennel owner in the kennels outside. But the reason was soon obvious when Rosalinda's nine new puppies arrived.

"Which one would you pick?" asked Christopher Wain.

CHAPTER SEVEN

She led the way. Rosalinda welcomed her with a wagging tail, but looked doubtfully at Christopher Wain. "It's all right, old girl," he assured her, and dropped to his knees beside the divan. "Aren't they darling?" Ann asked proudly. "And did you ever see so many?" "Oh, yes. I've had as many as fifteen," he tossed off casually. She eyed him stonily. This was her bragging. "Do you raise dogs, or make a try at it," he conceded, modestly. "Oh," that explained him a little. "Ever hear of my Bismark von Berlin?" he continued. "No, I don't know your Bismark," she said shortly. "Oh, you must," he insisted. "Because everybody has. He was a lot of breed at the Garden this year and last." "That's nice," she said politely.

"Of course," he went on "I don't put myself in a class with the Freunds. They've been at it for generations. Grandfather raised them in Alsace, father came over here and did it, and the son's carrying on. A perpetual estate in Great Danes, so to speak." Ann began to put two and two together. She began to understand old Mrs. Freund's attitude toward Rosalinda. "You mean that the Freunds make a business of raising these dogs, that they've been making a business of it from Paul's grandfather's days, that that's all they do?" she asked incredulously. "Well, it's like a lot of businesses—they're losing money at it at the moment, and Paul takes in tourists to pay for the dog meat. Say, I thought you were some relative of theirs," he broke off. She shook her head. "No, I only feel like a relative. But I like them a lot better than I like some relatives," she explained hastily. "That goes for me, too." "What I can't understand though," she continued seriously, "is why they have to support a regular army of Great Danes if they're hard up?" "Because," Christopher Wain pointed out with something of the air of a schoolteacher, "Mother Nature is a funny old girl. No one has ever bred the perfect animal. But we all hope that some day one of us will come close to it. Rosalinda, for example, is the most nearly perfect bitch ever bred in America. When she throws a pup that can throw a pup with the same degree of perfection—well, then, three generations of Freunds will have come to the end of the road. Only the odds are against it, because we can't raise Danes as well in this country as they can in Germany. Or so they say."

"Who says so?" "It's not our game." "Tommyrot! We can't make lenses as they make them in Wilmers. We can't make cutlery as they make it in Sheffield, or raise Percherons as they raise them in Belgium, or raise race horses to win the Derby. We can't do this and we can't do that. And what's to prevent? The water, the gulf stream, infra-red in the sunlight, mineral colloids in the soil, sawdust in people's heads! I say such can't-do talk is all hogwash!" "What do you know about mineral colloids and horses?" he asked amused. "I know considerable!" "Well, you don't know much about Great Danes," he stated with certainty. "If I were interested," she retorted, "if I really wanted to, I mean, I'd know all there was to know, and I wouldn't let anybody tell me that I couldn't raise as good a dog as anybody else, anywhere! Especially," she added scathingly, "in Germany."

He laughed out loud at that. "It's the right spirit anyway. But don't let's quarrel about it," he glanced at his watch. "What I stopped off to look at was Rosalinda's last litter, not this one. Paul said at the show that I could have my pick of the lot. Can you take me to them?" "I haven't the least idea where to find them." "Suppose we go on a search together." It wasn't hard to identify six gangling nine-month old pups in a generous run, stretching back on the hillside behind the cottages. "Ummmm," Christopher appraised them. "Not so bad. Some of them are as good as the average we import these days." "Are we going to start all that again?" Ann demanded. "When we want the best, we have to bring them over," he averred with finality. "But these are good, and I'm going to take a chance and get a brood matron out of the bunch." He was already squatting on his heels watching the dogs play about in the sunlight. "Which one would you pick?" he asked in a friendly way. It was hard to choose between them. To Ann they were six compact, lithe packages of energy, all equally ingratiating. And then her gaze began to follow a fawn-colored dog, a little smaller than the others. There was something in the way she held her head, something in the way she would stop to look far away into nowhere, wriggling her nose into the wind. "I'd pick that one. The one in the corner, facing us now." Christopher Wain glanced at the dog and shrugged. "Hasn't developed, and probably won't. Over there, though, that's the real flyer of the lot!" He pointed to a proud brindle pulling at a gunny sack with one of her brothers. "That one has size, color, dark eyes, good stop to its face, fine stance, beautiful gait and hindquarters, a deep bristletail, and she's well angled—Yes sree," he repeated, with mounting enthusiasm, "that's the pup! Tell Paul I'll pick her up in a day or two. Think you can remember which one?"

I may not be able to agree with you in Danes, but I can tell one dog from another," she informed him. An eyebrow slid up his forehead. "It's telling the good ones," he remarked. Ignoring that, Ann said, by way of dismissal, "I'll give Mr. Freund your message."

"Thanks. And if you can, I wish you'd stop over and see my kennels one of these days." She smiled the way her sister Helen always smiled when she wanted to snub somebody. She should have known better than to encourage him. Dog dealers sometimes were a shoddy lot, always wanting to make a sale, and preferably passing off a dog with a bad tail, or an inconvenient habit. Paul and his mother were different of course. "Oh, tell Paul I'll stop over and take a squint at this new litter when it begins to look like something," he added. "I'm sure that Mr. Freund will be delighted," said Ann, too pleasantly. "I'm sure he will," said Christopher Wain.

Her blood boiled. He was the sort of objectionable young man who always had to have the last word. She heard him start his rattletrap, and felt a great desire to hurl something after him. (To be continued)

U. S. Fliers Attack Jap Bases In Chungking Area

CHUNGKING, July 15—Fliers of the U. S. 14th air force struck at the Japanese in the past seven days in bombing and strafing missions which ranged from the Yangtze river front to French Indo-China, a communiqué from Lieut. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's headquarters announced today. A motor vessel of between 6,000 and 10,000 tons was among 15 river craft destroyed or damaged near Canton, it said. Five raids were made on the Haiphong, Hongay and Campha port area of French Indo-China. During 1943, it is estimated, the total production of the American aviation industry will be 20 billion dollars.

Eugene F. Wise, mail carrier, of Columbiana, and Zana Ward of Lisbon.

Donald C. Calhoun, soldier, and Gladys I. Hart, East Liverpool.

Homer E. Martin, soldier, and Gladys M. Haugh of East Liverpool.

Sgt. Paul Smith of the Army Air forces, who has been stationed at an air base in Washington state, arrived in the city Tuesday night to spend a few days with his wife. When he returns he will be located at a camp near Spokane, Wash.

This is his first visit home since he entered the service over a year ago.

Roy Vernon Honored At Birthday Party

Mrs. Roy E. Yeager, assisted by her sister, Mrs. Walter E. Dennis, entertained 20 children and their mothers at the Dennis home on Fair ave. yesterday afternoon at a birthday party for her son, Roy Vernon Yeager, on his fourth birthday.

Games and contests were enjoyed, prizes going to Billy Herold, Timmy Kornbau, Helen Louise Yeager, Nancy and Marilyn Schramm, and James Dennis. Roy received a number of gifts.

Lunch was served in Centennial park. The table was attractive with pink and blue appointments, with little baskets of candy as favors. A pink and white cake was the centerpiece.

Picnic Is Planned By Women of Moose

Plans for a basket picnic at the new shelter house in Centennial park, July 22, were discussed at a meeting of the Women of the Moose in the lodge hall Wednesday night.

Mrs. Carl Blattman and Mrs. James Boals were named as the entertainment committee for the picnic by Mrs. Earl Yeager, senior regent.

Mrs. Yeager was elected delegate from Salem chapter No. 68 to the state conference in Cincinnati. Mrs. Otto Walker will be alternate. A special prize was awarded Mrs. Samuel Edling during the session.

Unity Bible Class Meets at Park

A short program followed the picnic dinner for members of the Unity Bible class last night at Centennial park. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gillett were in charge of the program.

Entertainment included: Accordion selections, Mr. Alessi; reading, "A Man's Version of Shopping," Mrs. Gillett. Contests and games were won by Mrs. Ross Helman, Mrs. Albert Bonsall, Mrs. William Shinn, Mrs. Fred G. Smith.

The Sept. 14 meeting will feature a corn and wiener roast. The place will be announced later.

Mrs. John Lora Society Hostess

Group 3 of the Methodist Women's Society of Christian Service was entertained Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Lora on Franklin st.

A picnic dinner preceded the regular meeting and program. Devotional service was in charge of Mrs. Carl Graeber. Mrs. Howard Holloway, head of the group, presided. Mrs. W. M. Stewart was program chairman.

The Sept. 8 meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Arthur Lind on the Lisbon rd.

WASHINGTON, July 15—Clothing bargain sales—as American as hot dogs and line drives to left center—were added today to the war's list of victims.

Retailers, under the aegis of the War Production board, joined in a voluntary code of sales practices designed to discourage excess buying of clothing rationing could be avoided. Out for the duration will be the savings of clerks to "buy several—we may not get anymore."

The government's price agency, OPA, started out the day one executive short. Lou R. Maxon, Detroit advertising man who came here as deputy to Price Administrator Prentiss Brown several months ago, abruptly resigned with the declaration that Houdini himself couldn't untangle what he called OPA's "legislative red tape."

From the quiet halls of congress in recess came an assertion by Chairman Reynolds (D-NC) of the senate military affairs committee that in his opinion it was time the army halted drains on the civilian worker population. Reynolds, expressing opposition to any moves to draft labor, as has been suggested, said he thought the army is big enough now and conscriptions should be tapering off.

On the house side, it was disclosed that the interstate and foreign commerce committee has drawn up a bill for government regulation and financing of aviation, domestically and on an international scale, after the war. Subsidies would be used where the civil aviation companies need help.

OHIO STATE GUARD TRAINED BY M.P.'S

Army and Naval Units, In Camp Session, Learn to Control Mobs

(By Associated Press)
CINCINNATI, July 15—One hundred army military policemen are training Ohio's State guard and naval militia at nearby Camp Zaleski in mob control and the handling of dangerous crowds.

The soldiers, members of Company B, 737th military police battalion stationed at Cincinnati, came here as the second week of the guard's field training got under way, showing the home front army how to quiet unruly groups.

The M. P.'s demonstrated the spectacular squad wedge, based on tactics of the bone-crushing flying wedge formation which attained fame on the gridiron.

The army men commanded by first Lieut. Neufus S. Newman also gave expert advice in the handling of all types of infantry weapons. The soldiers will instruct during two days of each eight-day encampment period. The field training continues for four more weeks.

The third infantry regiment of the OSG under the command of Col. Emerson Woolf of Akron now is at the camp. Men from these northern Ohio cities comprise the unit: Akron, Youngstown, Canton, Warren, Cleveland, Norwalk, Mansfield, Findlay, Napoleon, Toledo and Bucyrus.

A mock night battle, featuring application of hand-to-hand fighting of guerrilla warfare, ends the regiment's training period Friday. The maneuver will be staged in Vinton county forests.

Other units scheduled for field training at the camp are the first infantry of the Ohio State guard commanded by Col. Sam Richmond of Cincinnati, the Ohio State naval militia under Capt. Trafford Tallmadge of Columbus and the First Separate company commanded by Capt. Charles Gardner of Cleveland.

A shipment of meat sent to the camp yesterday was parachuted from three civil air patrol planes which flew to the camp with provisions. The flight was made from Canton in two hours under Flight Leader James J. Nibell.

Nelson, In Advertising Talk, Warns Against Over-Optimism

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, July 15—Donald M. Nelson urged American business today to throw its weight, through war message advertising, into the effort to shake off a production slump—caused in part, he said, by "a false and dangerously premature feeling that the war is in the bag."

The War Production board chairman, participating with other high officials in a program launching the war advertising council's drive for "a war message in every ad," disclosed that June war production missed its $6,500,000,000 goal by one-half billion dollars.

"In order to meet the urgent demands of the armed services, huge production goals were set for 1943," Nelson said.

"We are not currently meeting those goals month to month. We are gaining in total output but that output is not rising fast enough to meet the steady rise in our production goals."

"Production in May was unsatisfactory. Production in June, although better than in May, still did not show much improvement."

"I want to state bluntly, here and now, that if we are to meet our overall schedules for 1943, the American industrial front faces a staggering job in the months ahead."

Nelson, pointing to a 40 percent increase in aircraft production in the first half of the year and a 25 percent increase in munitions output, said the national was doing a good job, but "not good enough" to meet the military needs of the United Nations.

Several factors are responsible, he said—"one of the factors is a shortage of industrial manpower. Another is absenteeism. Another is strikes. Another is a false and dangerously premature feeling that the war is in the bag."

The government is dealing with these problems, Nelson said, but needs help in making the civilian population understand the need of intensifying the war effort. Advertising has helped generate enthusiasm for special phases of war activity, Nelson observed, "but that is not enough."

"More than inspiration is required. The American home front needs detailed and continuing information and instruction on every phase of its responsibilities."

Stalin and Willkie Come to Rescue of Girl and Reporter

NEW YORK, July 15—Premier Joseph Stalin and Wendell Willkie have collaborated in a different type of international relations—the romance of an American newspaper correspondent and a Russian girl, it was revealed today.

Willkie confirmed the story—and kept the names of the principals a secret—as follows:

The correspondent and the girl were seen together in Moscow. Some thought it was romance, but to Russian officials it looked as if the correspondent might be trying to obtain information from her.

Within a short time she was removed from Moscow, apparently, slated for Siberia.

The newspaperman returned to the United States and appealed to Willkie, who cabled Stalin on June 14:

"Anything you can do to facilitate this union I will personally appreciate, for I have absolute confidence and I am willing to vouch for — completely."

Stalin's reply, five days later, read:

"I am glad to inform you that your request regarding — will be fulfilled. The decision was made as a special exception on your recommendation and vouching."

The correspondent is returning to Russia, Willkie said, to marry the girl.

Patton In Personal Command of Troops

LONDON, July 15—Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., commander of the U. S. Seventh army invading Sicily, leaped into the surf from a landing barge and waded ashore to take personal command of bitter fighting against German tank units opposing the landing, Noel Monks, Daily Mail correspondent aboard a destroyer, reported.

At "General Patton's American bridgehead at Gela," he wrote, "I was told the story of Patton's great personal courage and the magnificent fighting quality of his troops."

"When the Americans landed at Gela they found the town in control of two German tank regiments. During the next 24 hours the fiercest fighting of the whole Allied invasion took place. Twice the Germans were driven from the town and twice the Americans were forced right back on to the beaches."

"At this stage General Patton leaped into the surf from a landing barge and waded ashore to take over personal command."

"Step by step the Germans were driven back from the beaches as wave after wave of Americans landed from the troopships. . . by sunset Sunday the bridgehead was well established and the Americans had pushed the Germans back to a few miles beyond town."

WASTE IN WARTIME IS A CRIME—Don't waste electricity just because it isn't rationed!

HOW TO TAKE CARE OF YOUR REFRIGERATOR!

Defrost every week in warm weather. Never use an ice pick or sharp instrument to remove trays or chip ice from freezer coils as they are usually made of soft metal. Keep the door gasket clean. It's usually rubber, and grease or acid on hands and in food causes rubber to deteriorate. Likewise, keep all metal parts clean to prevent corrosion.

Even with the best of care, parts of appliances will wear. If any of your appliances are in need of repair, phone a competent electrician now. He may be delayed in obtaining parts, but will give you the best service he can under wartime conditions.

CHARLES E. HEATER
COLUMBIANA, July 15—Charles Heater, 71, of the Salem rd., died 1:30 p. m. Wednesday in Salem hospital following a year's illness of a heart ailment.
A retired farmer, Mrs. Heater came here 10 years ago from Denver, Colo. He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Andrew J. Heater, born in Salem Jan. 1, 1872. He was married to Lydia J. Walborn Feb. 7, 1925, in Youngstown. Mr. Heater was a member of the Christian Church at Highlandtown.
Besides his wife, he leaves two daughters, Mrs. Frederick R. Harris of Youngstown and Miss Alice Walborn, at home; three grandchildren and a brother-in-law, Elton Camp of Guilford.
The funeral service will be held 2 p. m. Saturday at the Fry funeral home in charge of Rev. Nathan L. Black. Burial will be in Lake Park cemetery, Youngstown. Friends may call at the funeral home from 7 to 9:30 p. m. Friday.

Rank Airmen Outfight Japanese Eight to One

SOUTH PACIFIC HEADQUARTERS, July 15—American airmen fought the Japanese in combat in a ratio of more than 8 to 1 over the Solomon Islands during the period from June 30 through July 15, a spokesman for Admiral William F. Halsey, Jr., disclosed today.
Japanese losses in bombers and fighters that fortnight, the first of the Americans' central Solomons invasion, were 211. (The American losses were not given officially, but the ratio stated, it was evident that they numbered about 25.)
Despite their losses, the Japanese still have several hundred planes available for combat in the Solomons area.

MORE BEEF DURING NEXT MONTHS SEEN

Prospect Beyond That Period Not So Good, Cattle Men Declare

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, July 15—More roast beef and steaks will be available to civilians and the armed forces over the next few months, P. O. Wilson, secretary of the National Livestock Producers association, asserted today.
But the question worrying cattle men, Wilson added, was the prospect beyond that period—whether enough cattle would be placed in feed lots throughout the corn belt to produce the steaks which will be wanted this summer and next year.

Wilson, commenting on news dispatches from Washington saying the OPA was developing a plan to bring about an increase in meat rations, said the price-fixing agency "cannot prevent beef supplies from expanding, even if it wanted to."
"The claim of the OPA that it is developing a plan to increase supplies is simply an effort to take credit for the normal expansion in receipts which occurs from mid-July until the end of the year."
This year, he said, there also may be some forced selling of cattle from mid-western feed-lots because of the difficulty involved in obtaining corn.
"What we should be thinking about," Wilson said, "is not the beef supply over the next two or three months, but over the next 12 months and more."

Bureau of Markets Urges Housewives Can More Foods

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, July 15—Commercial packs of some fruits and vegetables will be the smallest in years and Ohio housewives should can foodstuffs as soon as they are available to augment winter food supplies, the State Bureau of Markets said today.
Commercial canning of red cherries in Ohio will be the lightest in years, while production of vegetables has been "hampered not only by unfavorable weather but also by insufficient labor for normal planting," the report stated.
Ohio plants will process the smallest amount of green peas in years, the bureau declared, listing these prospects for other fruit and vegetable crops:
Red and black raspberries—Below early expectations; apples—To be available in considerable quantities; early tomatoes—excellent; northern tomatoes—poorest in years; early potatoes—prospects good; late potatoes—outlook discouraging; other root vegetables, especially carrots—an abundant supply anticipated.

Under Observation
LIMA, July 15—Thirty days observation at the Lima State hospital for the criminal insane has been ordered for Louis Vernon Hand, 17, Mercer county farm youth, who authorities said confessed beating six-year-old Richard Stober to death July 4 when the boy "razzed" him about his work. Hand pleaded innocent by reason of insanity at his arraignment on a first degree murder charge.

Quinine production in the East Indies was built up by the Dutch, who took the seeds from Peru.

BRITISH REPULSE ATTACK BY NAZIS

Americans Drive Inland; Germans Block Path On Catania Plains

New waves of British and American parachute and glider-borne troops had carried out what the communiqué called successful operations, and it was disclosed that units of the French army operating in the battle zone are Goums, the terror-inspiring pig-tailed warriors who fought so effectively along the Mediterranean coast in Tunisia.

Protect Catania Sector
The Germans are believed to have concentrated considerable strength, including tanks and artillery, at the town of Lentini, 13 miles south of Catania and at a road junction where the Catania plain begins.

Hard fighting can be expected before the capture of Lentini takes place, it was said. This center of resistance is about five miles from the coast.
An NBC correspondent, in a radio report from a British cruiser off eastern Sicily, said the British had captured both Lentini and nearby Carletini.

Another bombardment of Catania from the sea after an earlier shelling the previous dawn, was carried out last night, he said. The bombardment sent up a solid wall of flame and smoke along 20 miles of the sicilian coast, he added, and four and six-inch guns were wrenched from their shore emplacements.)

Plows Are Ruination of Land, County Farm Agent Declares

(By Associated Press)
NORMAN, Okla., July 15—Edward H. Faulkner stakes a crop expert's reputation on this statement: If the world quits beating its swords into plowshares, it will be a healthier, happier place for everyone.

Faulkner would bet the plowshares into swords—or do anything except plow with them.

Plows are the ruination of the land, he says—and to the doubters he can say "see for yourself" and put his crops on inspection. Did you ever see nature plowing, he asks?

His explanation is simple: Deep cultivation (plowing) murders the root system which lifts moisture from the subsoil, and hopelessly buries top growth so necessary for other plants to feed upon. While crops will grow, he says his system produces better; furthermore, erosion is the surest result of plowing.

Faulkner uses a disc-harrow instead. It kills weeds and plants which compete with whatever he wants to grow, but leaves carcasses of the killed plants close to the surface for the planned growth. Roots of the snipped plants continue lifting moisture.

He is a county agent, turned experimenter and writer, and his Elyria, Ohio, garden is untouched by plow. There he offers, for example, tomatoes which rank with any. He just harrowed down a three-foot high stand of rye, worked it into the topsoil, and set out tomato plants which he had cleaned of all dirt.

By mid-afternoon the plants had lifted skyward and by the next morning every one was straight up—no losses. He used no water, either.

Faulkner always had noted the unplowed fields, or wood lots, flourished in drouths—while nearby cultivated fields withered.

Wheat he means is, the gardener can toil and sweat and nurse a plot to scanty maturity—while a few feet away nature boosts the weeds eye-high. Ever notice?

Bobo Newsom Bounced Out Of Brooklyn Baseball Parlor

Defiant Hurler Declares He Won't Report To St. Louis Following Trade By Dodgers

BY JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Fireworks still are popping among the Brooklyn Dodgers and that loud noise you heard last night was Louis Norman (Bobo) Newsom exploding as he was bounced out of the Brooklyn baseball parlor.

The latest repercussions from the Dodgers' family feud were a statement by Branch Rickey, president of the club, that he would support Manager Leo Durocher to the limit and an announcement that Newsom, the cause celebre of last week's rebellion, had been traded to the St. Louis Browns for a pair of antiquated southpaws, Fritz Ostermuller and Archie McKain.

Newsom, never at loss for words, roared in defiance:

"I don't want to play in St. Louis. I won't play in St. Louis and I'm not going to report."

"I got the dirtiest deal any ball player ever got. I've been the goat all the way through this thing. I guess I'll have to quit and I will quit before reporting to St. Louis. I heard about this only yesterday afternoon and I offered to buy my release from the Brooklyn club, but was refused."

Whether the boisterous Bobo goes through with his threat remains to be seen. Changing uniforms is no novelty to him for even before today he was the most traded pitcher in the big leagues and in 13 seasons in the National and American leagues had played variously with Brooklyn, the Chicago Cubs, Boston Red Sox, Detroit Tigers, Washington Senators and St. Louis Browns. In fact, during his long career he had been with the Browns, Brooklyn and Washington twice each.

Newsom, if he reports, should help the Browns. He won 20 games for them in both 1938 and 1939 and in 1940 he won 21 and lost only 5 in leading Detroit to the American league pennant.

Consistent Performer

His pitching this year has been the most consistent of any of the Dodger hurlers and his present record of nine victories and four defeats is one of the best in the National league. Although the Dodgers need southpaws, Ostermuller and McKain, both veterans now relegated to relief roles, cannot be expected to match Newsom's work.

But Rickey felt that either Durocher or Newsom would have to go as the result of the insurrection of the players last Saturday, when they revolted because Newsom had been suspended for what the manager later termed "general insubordination" and more specifically described as refusal to follow pitching instructions.

Just how the players, who revolted over a three-day suspension for Newsom, would react to the banishment of their star pitcher was a problem which puzzled some observers.

In any case the blow-up apparently has blasted any Brooklyn hopes of winning the National league pennant and it was enough to make even the stoutest Dodgers take to a sick bed. Literally it did, because Rickey was confined to his bedroom all day yesterday by an attack of indigestion.

The confusion among the Dodgers may make it difficult for some fans to concentrate on the pennant races again immediately, but nevertheless the major leagues were to resume their schedule today after a three-day intermission for the All-Star show. Three contests were on tap in each circuit, with five of the six games being slated at night.

Modern Sampson

Corp. John Fritzman

Corp. John Fritzman of Salem is "one of the strongest and most muscular men of his weight in the world," according to "Iron Man," a magazine published in Alliance, Neb., and devoted exclusively to the feats of strong men and to physical training.

The magazine refers to him as a modern Sampson. He is 5 feet, 4 inches in height, weighs 170 pounds. His arm measurement is 16 inches, chest 46½, thigh 25½. He has performed strong man feats in Salem often and is widely known here.

John, aged 30, is a corporal with the Medical Tech. school at the St. Louis Medical depot. He is the son of Mrs. Anna Fritzman, 601 Arch st. Mrs. Fritzman is proud of her son's physique, and she also is proud of the fact that both to her sons are in the armed forces.

The other son, Corp. Michael Fritzman, aged 27, is in Africa, where he arrived last Christmas eve. His address is 35501081, Co. I, 66 A. R., A. P. O. 252, care postmaster, New York City.

Veteran Hurler Dies

CINCINNATI, July 15.—A pitcher for the Cincinnati and Cleveland major league baseball clubs before the turn of the century, George A. Pechiney, 81, died yesterday.

Quinine is extracted from the bark of the cinchona tree.

SPORT CHATTER

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.
NEW YORK, July 15.—The A. A. U. handbook probably won't list any new broad jumping records established by sports writers in July, 1943, but from here it seems that the boys have made some remarkably long leaps at conclusions about what Branch Rickey would say to Leo Durocher and vice versa.

We don't know what "de ravo-lutin" in Brooklyn amounted to, nor what Leo actually said about resigning, but anybody who gave the matter a serious thought realized that Rickey would have to stand back of his manager as long as possible. The general impression when neither Branch nor Leo turned up for the All-Star game Tuesday was that they were holding their discussion privately while the scribes were in Philadelphia. And sure enough, the publicized conference didn't take place yesterday but Rickey came out with a statement that Durocher still is "in."

SHORT THOUGHT

If Rickey did give Durocher the heave-ho, or let him resign, he'd be on the spot himself the rest of the season. Any new manager would have to cure the dissension on the club and get the skidding Bums back into the pennant fight—two tough jobs. So if Branch let Durocher out and the move wasn't successful, the directors might let Branch out with no more ceremony. He's only a hired hand, too.

RECORD EFFORT

If Gunder Haegg returns to Sweden by plane instead of by tanker, he'll likely make his farewell appearance at Yankee stadium about Aug. 21 instead of at New Orleans. And he may try for a mile record at Princeton as a build-up for the last show.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR

Havey J. Boyle, Pittsburgh Post-Gazette: "That rumbling to the east is the call of the wild—the wild Brooklyn fans, a measure of whose capacity for denunciation is to be had from the fact that the most flowery term in their vocabulary of praise is 'our Bums.' What such a dubious accolade born of success will change to in failure will make a fishwife's vocabulary the essence of circumspection."

FIGHTING SCOT IS RACE WINNER

(By Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, July 15.—Trotting smoothly and well ahead of a sparse field, Fighting Scot sped to victory in the $3,703 National stake at North Randall yesterday, highlight of the day's Grand Circuit meeting.

Three-year-old pacers take the limelight today, in the $2,280 championship Stallion stake and the William Hughes 2:14 stake for pacers, a $1,000 event. Two trotting races, 2:08 and 2:14 class, complete the program.

Tommy Berry piloted the Fighting Scot yesterday as the son of Scotland romped in ahead of Yankee Maid in the first heat, and then bested Rilda Mite in the finale.

A surprise winner was Princess Smith, who finished third and fourth in opening heats of the $1,000 Tanglewood stake and then pounded home in the third and runoff heat, paying $41 for $2 in her third spin. Chuck Signal and War Glory split victories in the first two whirls.

The $1,000 Edwards pacing stake went four heats. Supreme Hal, after finishing second twice, dashed home in 2:02½ to win the third heat, set a new track record and necessitated a runoff. Supreme Hal had little trouble winning the runoff.

The highly favored Eddie D won the first and finished third, second and third in the remainder.

Newsom Traded Back To Browns

Indians Face Browns Today At St. Louis

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 15.—The six Cleveland contributions to the American league All-Star team rejoin their Tribe to open a five-game series with the Browns today.

After the series here, the Indians move back to Philadelphia's All-Star game stadium to launch the season's second eastern trip next week.

Without the services of the All-Star delegation—Lou Boudreau, Ken Keltner, Buddy Rosar, Jeff Heath, Jim Bagby and Al Smith the Indians dropped a 1 to 0 decision to Lambert Field Naval Air station in an exhibition game yesterday.

Hal Schumacher, ex-New York Giant finger, was the Lambert pitcher and allowed only three hits. Mel Harder started on the mound for the Tribe, allowing four hits in three innings, and was relieved by Ray Poat, who gave up two singles in five innings.

Sinkwich Becomes Marine Today, But Looks To Future

(By Associated Press)

ATLANTA, July 15.—Flat-foot Frankie Sinkwich of Youngstown, O., the football fireball, becomes a Marine "boot" today, but Frankie still thinks the gridiron is his destiny and he's looking forward to a lucrative professional career at the war's end.

The backfield ace, who galloped and passed his way to All-America fame with Wallace Butts' University of Georgia Bulldogs, takes on Marine discipline at Parris Island, S. C., 15 pounds over "playing weight."

"I want to do my part to get this war over," declared the shock-haired Sinkwich. "Football is my first love. I want to play as long as I'm any good."

Frankie recently was tapped by the Detroit Lions of the National Football league, but he signed with the Marines as a reserve last fall before he went into his final Bulldog season.

Sinkwich wants to come back to the Lions. He realizes that even professional playing years are numbered. Then, he'd like to take up football officiating in a serious way, but no coaching.

Frankie has been loafing around Youngstown, O., his home, and his weight went up to 210 pounds. "The extra" came off pretty quick at Boot camp," he grinned. After seven weeks at Parris Island, Sinkwich is to go to Quantico, Va., as an officer candidate.

Just as he took football, Sinkwich is taking current events in stride. This includes impending fatherhood this wife is the former Adeline Weatherly of Royston, Ga. "It'll be in September," he announced. "And—I hope it's a boy."

Users' Coal Piles Not Large Enough, Ayres' Report Says

(By Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, July 15—Users' stock of coal, "almost the only material the government urges people to hoard," now are larger "than ever before at this time of the year," Brig. Gen. Leonard P. Ayres noted today, but still "are not large enough."

"People who use coal either in large quantities or in smaller amounts should keep on adding to their stocks," the retired brigadier continued in the Cleveland Trust Co.'s monthly business bulletin. "By doing so they may avoid shortages next winter and they will help relieve demands that will be placed on our overloaded railroads in the autumn."

Most forehand among important users are electric power producers; "railroads are always urging their shippers to buy their coal early and to keep large stocks on hand, but the roads have not done very well in following their own good advice. At the beginning of June railroads had on hand stocks of coal sufficient for operations during only 39 days. Stocks of retail dealers (28 days) were small of all."

The Cleveland economist studied employment figures, noting there now are "less than one million" jobless "and probably that number cannot be much further reduced. The numbers of men who have been drawn off into the armed forces have just about offset the reductions (eight millions) in the numbers of the unemployed."

WAR WIDOWS' PAY BILL IS SIGNED

WASHINGTON, July 15—Omnibus war veterans' legislation, boosting compensation for widows and children of men killed in the fighting forces in wartime, became law Wednesday with President Roosevelt's signature.

Widows of war veterans—irrespective of their age—will receive $50 a month. The old rates were $38 for those under 50 years of age and $45 for those over 50. A widow with one child will receive $65, with $13 more for each additional child. Old rates varied according to the children's ages.

The Veterans' administration estimated the increased rates would cost $4,536,000 for the first year of operation.

The measure sets new peacetime-service-connected death pension rates at approximately 75 per cent of the amounts authorized for wartime-service-connected death.

F. D. R. DEFIES BAN ON THEM

William E. Dodd, Jr.

Dr. Robert M. Lovett

IN A PRESS CONFERENCE IN WASHINGTON, President Roosevelt accuses congress of an unconstitutional action and declares he won't be bound by it. He took his stand on an amendment to the newly-passed urgent deficiency appropriation bill which fixed strict limitations on the continued government service of three men who have been accused of having had connections with subversive organizations. The men were Dr. Robert M. Lovett, government secretary of the Virgin Islands and William E. Dodd, Jr., and Goodwin Watson of the Federal Communications Commission. The president declared the rider unconstitutional, unwise, discriminatory. (International)

Red Cross Seeks Gifts For Hospitalized Men

EAST PALESTINE, July 15.—Robert Henry, chairman of the Columbiana County Red Cross, has appointed a committee of six to have charge of the county's part in providing facilities not taken care of by the government for hospitalized soldiers at the Shenango Replacement center, Transfer, Pa. Committee members are Mrs. J.

F. Moore of Lisbon, Miss Ruby Angelmeyer of Leetonia, Mrs. Virginia Felger of Columbiana, Mrs. E. C. Wang of North Georgetown, Miss Anna Sinclair of Hanoverton and Miss Essie McCune of New Waterford.

The committee will work with military and hospital authorities at Shenango to get games, radios, small luxuries and entertainment for the men.

"Some of the articles wanted," Henry says, "are 36 baseball uniforms and other sports equipment, furniture, magazines and other equipment the soldiers can use for entertainment."
